Individual Coaching Rates

Individual coaching is ideal for designing a program specific to your own unique needs.

Per Session – $100

Paid for on an individual basis, each session typically lasts 30-60 minutes. Best as an adjunct to a pre-existing coaching relationship this option offers great flexibility for personalized attention.

Per Month – $400

2-3 hours per month paid for in advance ensures regular contact with your coach which helps you gain traction on reaching your goals. Sessions are scheduled by mutual agreement according to your needs and are typically 30 minutes (weekly) or 45 minutes (every other week) with email and Instant Messenger support between sessions, as desired. Offers good value with personalized attention.

Per Month Now What? with workbook – $410

Similar to standard monthly coaching, the Now What? program designed by best-selling author Laura Berman Fortgang adds even greater structure to the coaching relationship. Includes a workbook companion to the Now What? – 90 Days to a New Life Direction, available only through authorized facilitators. Separate purchase/lending of the book required. Offers good value with personalized attention within a structured program.

Pre-Paid Now What? with workbook – $1140

Get extra savings on the Now What? program by paying for the entire 12 weeks in advance. Separate purchase/lending of the book required. Great value over Per Month coaching with or without the Now What? program.

Pre-Paid Now What? with workbook and CD – $1265

Get great pre-paid savings on the popular 12-week Now What? program with the added advantage of a supplementary 6-CD set that provides you with anytime access to powerful companion material to the book (not an audiobook!) even after you have completed your coaching engagement. Separate purchase/lending of the book required. Premium package offering the best personalized attention within a structured program and on-going self-study.

Special Rate

Although not everyone can afford my standard rates, I make it a point to ensure that my fees will never be a deterrent for someone who genuinely wishes to work with me. For that purpose, I maintain a limited number of reduced rate (scholarship) slots in my practice for those who truly need them. If appropriate, please ask about the availability of one of these scholarship slots and the special formula I use to determine those rates.

Most of my clients who receive special discounts in their rates compensate by giving back to their communities in some fashion: volunteering their time or paying forward the favor to someone else later on.
